

FLORÉA NATURAL BEAUTY

DIGITAL MARKETING PLAN

DEPI TEAM PROJECT

FLORÉA

Project Idea

The project's concept is based on capitalizing on the growing trend towards using natural and safe skincare and haircare products by implementing a comprehensive marketing for an existing natural beauty brand.

GOALS!

To capitalize on the growing market trend of safe, natural skin and hair care by promoting Floréa's high-quality, handmade Egyptian products.

To build a strong, trusted brand presence in the Egyptian natural skincare market, expand the customer base, and ultimately increase market share and sales conversions.

Vision & Business Goals

Brand Philosophy

Unique Selling Point (USP)

Floréa stands out by offering beauty products that deliver immediate, visible results, backed by authentic customer testimonials, while presenting them in a refined, elegant, and gift-ready visual identity that feels more premium than competitors. Adding to this distinction, Floréa's soap products come in unique, eye-catching shapes such as grapes and strawberries, creating a memorable experience that blends effectiveness with charm and originality.

INITIAL MARKET OVERVIEW

The beauty industry is shifting toward safe, natural, and chemical-free skincare and hair care.

Floréa is an Egyptian natural cosmetics brand offering high-quality handmade products with a refined visual identity.

In this competitive market, brands that use authentic, therapeutic ingredients stand out most.

It builds trust through education, honest reviews, and strong visuals to present the brand as a premium choice.

Marketing channels:

Social media platforms: Instagram, Facebook, TikTok

Direct selling channels: WhatsApp and Messenger

Online stores and beauty e-commerce platforms

Offline retail: beauty shops, pharmacies, supermarkets.

Physical events: bazaars, exhibitions, and pop-up markets

The strongest path is social-first marketing supported by direct chat selling and trusted product trial points offline.

- Egypt beauty and personal care market is forecast to grow to USD 3,233.5 million by 2034.
- Social media platforms such as Instagram, Facebook, and YouTube are important for product discovery and brand loyalty.
- Skin care remains one of the strongest growth areas in the market.
- Consumers are shifting toward a “skin-first” mindset and more natural daily-use products.

Industry Overview

Competitive Analysis

Florea currently competes with stronger and more established natural cosmetics brands on Facebook, especially Ashry Natural and Nefertari Minya. These competitors outperform Florea in audience size, posting frequency, reviews, and engagement, which gives them a stronger position in the consideration and decision stages of the buyer journey.

Competitor comparison

- Florea is behind its competitors in audience size, posting consistency, and platform presence, especially because Ashry Natural is active on both Facebook and Instagram while Florea is not yet active on Instagram.
- Florea posts about 1 time per week, while competitors post 4–6 times weekly, giving them stronger visibility and more frequent customer touchpoints.
- Florea's content is mostly sales-focused, while Ashry Natural uses interactive content, clear CTAs, regular Stories, and fast replies, helping move customers from consideration to purchase.

Competitor comparison

- Florea's strengths are trust, clarity, and unique products, but its main weaknesses are low reach and inconsistent content.
- Ashry Natural is the strongest competitor because it has larger audiences, stronger brand consistency, and a better multi-platform content strategy, even though its Instagram engagement rate is still low.

PESTEL Analysis

Political

Government policies support regulation, safety, and quality control in cosmetics.

Economic

A growing beauty market creates opportunity, but consumers may still be price-sensitive and compare value carefully.

Social

Clean beauty, natural living, and wellness trends are increasing interest in handmade cosmetics.

Technological

Social media and e-commerce are essential tools for reaching and converting buyers.

Environmental

Eco-friendly products, sustainable ingredients, and reduced chemical use match consumer values in the category.

Legal

Cosmetic products in Egypt are subject to EDA rules, product registration, ingredient disclosure, Arabic labeling, and compliance requirements.

SWOT Analysis

Florea's opportunity is strong, but it must improve content consistency, audience growth, and brand visibility to compete effectively.

Strengths

Handmade natural positioning, trust, clarity, professional photos, consistent visual identity.

Weaknesses

Low audience size, irregular posting, limited engagement, and a new brand status.

Opportunities

Growing demand for natural beauty in Egypt, increasing influence of social media, and unique product designs.

Threats

Established competitors with larger audiences, stronger content strategies, and better awareness in the market.

Objectives

Business Objectives

- Increase total sales by 30% within 3 months

Floréa Content Strategy

Transforming Natural Beauty into Digital Narrative

1. Goals & Objectives

30%

SALES LIFT

1K+

NEW FOLLOWERS

5%

ENGAGEMENT

20+

REVIEWS/MO

Primary Objective: To build a high-trust digital presence that converts educational skincare content into consistent monthly sales, focusing on the "Premium Handmade" positioning.

2. Buyer Persona: "Mariam"

The Conscious Professional

Profile: 25-45 years old, working professional in urban Egypt.

Values: Organic ingredients, aesthetic packaging, and supporting local female-led businesses.

Pain Points: Concerned about chemical additives in mass-market brands; needs skincare that doubles as a luxury gift.

Digital Habits: Uses Instagram for beauty discovery and TikTok for "Self-care" routines.

3. Content Audit

Current Assets

High-quality product photography and a strong, consistent brand color palette (Violet/Cream).

Critical Gaps

Low video frequency (Reels/TikToks) and a lack of educational "How-to" content for new users.

Key Fixes

Introduce weekly ASMR production videos and share customer results to bridge the trust gap.

4. Competitive Analysis

5. Key Messages & Themes

Core Message

"Floréa: Where natural purity meets artistic craftsmanship for a glow you can trust."

Content Themes

- 🌿 Pure Origins: Ingredient education.
- 🎨 Art in Skincare: Design & Molding.
- 💖 Real Glow: Customer transformations.

6. Content Ideation

Campaign Pillars

-  "The Sculpting Series" (Reels):
ASMR videos showing the transition from raw oils to fruit-shaped soaps.
-  "Skincare Q&A":
Weekly story series answering concerns about sensitive skin and acne.
-  "The Gift of Nature":
Storytelling posts focusing on Floréa as the perfect gift for weddings and Mother's Day.
